Intercultural Educator Concentration*
MSEd Curriculum and Instruction – General Education

With rapid internationalization, there is an increase in intercultural schools, classrooms, events, communities, and businesses. Individuals with the ability to navigate and lead within these settings smoothly will be in increased demand. These courses will enable the graduate student to begin to develop a greater understanding of the normality of diversity in the lives of all Humans.

The courses in this program are:
GRED 516 Diversity and Advocacy in Education
GRDG 620 Literacy and Language for Diverse Learners
GRED 545 Teaching English Language Learners in the Mainstream Classroom
GRED 595 Education, Language, and Culture

*Coursework subject to change and changes in availability from one semester to the next